Corporate Training in Organizational and Political Savvy

Trainer Bio

For over two decades as a trainer for BRANDON PARTNERS, Ridge Associates, Catalyst, and other consulting firms, Maryann has forged solid partnerships with clients striving to strengthen those relationships on which their success depends. She brings both keen analytical and insightful facilitation skills to her work in assessment and coaching, and team, leadership and organization development. She partners with leaders and teams to assess business needs and to design, develop, and implement practical ways to promote organizational effectiveness and achieve bottom-line results.

She is a principal in the Jupiter Consulting Group, a corporate training and organizational effectiveness firm owned by seasoned female professionals around the world. Previously, Maryann served as Senior Consultant for a multi-national consulting firm where her responsibilities ranged from the creation of competency models for clients to the facilitation of a broad range of leadership development programs. She spent several years as an account executive and manager at a premier boutique training firm where she hired, managed, and developed a cadre of highly skilled facilitators, and served as a subject matter expert in the design of interpersonal skills training programs.

Maryann has consulted across a broad range of industries in the United States and abroad. She has worked with diverse groups in the biotech, pharmaceutical, health care, high tech, utility, publishing, telecommunications, financial services, and retail industries.

Maryann has a Doctorate in Counseling Psychology from the University of California at Berkeley where she also earned her Masters in Adult Education. She did her undergraduate work at Holy Cross College in Worcester, MA. A native Chicagoan, Maryann lives in Oakland, CA with her husband and daughters, one of whom has started college in New England.
